STATEMENT TO CANADIAN PARLIAMENTARIANS OPPOSING BILL C-2, AN ACT TO AMEND THE CONTROLLED DRUGS AND SUBSTANCES ACT

March 23, 2015 — We believe in health, human rights, harm reduction, scientific evidence and the well-being of our communities.

Bill C-2, currently before Parliament, undermines all of these by setting out an excessive and unreasonable process for health authorities and community agencies looking to open, or maintain, desperately-needed supervised consumption services (SCS) for people who use drugs.

SCS are health services that provide a safe, hygienic environment where people can use pre-obtained drugs under the supervision of trained staff.

SCS are part of a broader harm reduction approach to substance use. They are not exclusive of drug treatment programs; they are complementary.

SCS are also part of a continuum of care for people who use drugs. They are offered in facilities where nurses and peers work together to provide much-needed care, education and support.

Scientific evidence clearly shows that SCS reduce the risks of transmission of infectious diseases and overdose-related deaths. They improve access to health, treatment and social services for the most marginalized groups and contribute to the safety and quality of life of local communities by reducing the impact of open drug scenes.

The Supreme Court of Canada has recognized that preventing access to such critical health services violates human rights.

We strongly oppose Bill C-2 and ask our elected representatives to reject it and, instead of creating barriers, increase access to evidence-based prevention, harm reduction and treatment services in Canada. Our communities deserve better.
